

North Texas Mops Up Storm Damage; 11 Persons Killed

Dallas, June 15 (AP)—The thunderstorms that caused flash floods and 11 deaths were fading from north Texas today. Central Texas was next in the thunderheads' line of march.

Heavy rains last night soaked a 95-mile strip through the central part of the state—from Waco south to Austin. But it was a good thing. Farmers said the rain was just what their corn fields needed.

The weather bureau said central Texas could expect more weather like that today and north Texas probably none.

While north Texas mopped up yesterday, a wind and rain storm damaged store buildings and broke windows at Dayton, in the coastal area near Houston. Strong winds and heavy rain caused damage at Jacksonville in east Texas.

Constable R. C. Smith estimated flood damage to Garland, a small town northeast of Dallas, at $1,000,000. And Dallas county sheriff Bill Decker estimated damage to farm land at $500,000 to $750,000.

Mario Vasquez, 19, of Fort Worth was the eleventh person listed a victim of the storms. He was killed when he touched a live wire broken by lightning.

Four persons drowned in floodwaters at Garland. A boy drowned when wind upset his boat in Lake Dallas. Four persons were killed in traffic accidents caused by blinding rain. A baby suffocated in her crib while many Dallas lights were blacked out by lightning.

Labor Bill Near Vote In Senate

By MAX HALL

Washington, June 15 (AP)—The Senate added a Taft-Hartley law feature to the Truman administration's labor bill today by voting to require unions to bargain with employers.

T action came on a voice vote. The bill already contained a requirement that employers must bargain with unions. The effect of the amendment would be to make it an unfair labor practice—as in the Taft-Hartley act—for either side "to refuse to bargain collectively" with each other in good faith.

Its passage was the first definite action taken by the Senate in its week-long debate over changing the Taft-Hartley act.

It is one of four bipartisan amendments to the administration's labor bill, which would repeal the Taft-Hartley act and replace it with an enlarged version of the original Wagner act.

Approval of the four amendments was expected without much opposition.

The changes, which would make the administration bill somewhat more like the Taft-Hartley act, would:

1. Require unions to bargain on request. The administration bill would apply this only to employers.

2. Require union and company leaders to sign non-Communist and non-Fascist affidavits—unless the union or the company itself effectively bans Communists and Messamore was seized in an open railroad coal car. He offered no resistance and was unarmed.

Phillies Baseman Shot By Girl, 19, In Chicago Hotel

Chicago, June 15 (AP)—Eddie Waitkus, 29, Philadelphia Phillies star first baseman, was shot near the heart early today by a 19-year-old girl who told police she was a "fit case for a psychiatrist."

The girl shot Waitkus with a .22 caliber rifle just after he entered her room in the fashionable Edgewater Beach hotel on Chicago's North Shore. He went there after receiving a note from her that it was "extremely important" that he see her. She told police later that she was not acquainted with Waitkus.

Three stitches were taken in the right side of Waitkus' chest to close the wound. He did not regain consciousness in Illinois Masonic hospital for more than two hours.

Waitkus was shot near the heart. Hospital officials said the ballplayer's condition at noon was "fair to poor." He was given blood transfusions and oxygen being administered in an effort to save his life.

The tall, dark-haired girl was identified by police as Ruth Ann Steinhagen, a typist employed in a Chicago loop office. She earlier gave a fictitious name and a Boston address.

Had Urge To Kill
Miss Steinhagen calmly told reporters she had had an "urge to kill somebody" which had built up within her for about two years. Police Capt. John T. Warren said she told him she had been undergoing psychiatric treatment for a nervous disorder.

Dr. Edward J. Kelleher, director of the Municipal Court Psychiatric Institute, said the girl "apparently is either schizophrenic or deep in the influence of a major hysteria." (A schizophrenic is a person with a split personality.)

Accompanied by Police Sergeant, Miss Steinhagen re-enacted the shooting in her 12th floor room, of the hotel where the Philadelphia team is housed, during its series with the Cubs. Police said she related:

"After she sent Waitkus the note, Waitkus first telephoned her but she told him she wanted to see him in person. Waitkus came to her room and knocked on the door. She put a paring knife into the pocket of her skirt and, still holding it, opened the door, intending to stab Waitkus as he entered."

But he walked swiftly past her, sat down and asked her what she wanted. She made small talk about him being up so late, and told him, "I have a surprise for you."

She reached into a closet, grabbed the rifle and pointed it at him.

"For heaven's sake, what's going on?" he asked.

High Fences Guard Homes Of Reuthers

Detroit Sneak Shootings
Remain Unsolved

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Six-foot wire fences have been built around the homes of the union - leading Reuther brothers, both targets of shotgun assassins.

Victor Reuther, educational director of the CIO United Auto Workers, is still hospitalized from an attack May 24. He lost his right eye.

UAW President Walter Reuther still wears a sling on his arm from wounds received 14 months ago.

Both brothers were shot by attackers who sneaked up to their homes at night, fired through windows and disappeared mysteriously. Rewards of more than $200,000 have been offered for the unknown assassins.

The fences constitute another step in efforts to prevent repetition of the attacks. They are triangular, leaving the front of the houses open. Trained police dogs will patrol the area inside the fences.

Meanwhile, Detroit detectives conferred with officers in Marion, O., about another shot gun attack on a union official.

Thomas S. Mitchell, director of a telephone strike in Marion, was shot through the window of a house where he is recovering from an operation. The charge barely missed him.

Detroit police were seeking any connection between this and the Reuther.

Fast Hunter-Killer Ships Take Over Spotlight In Navy

San Francisco, June 15 (AP)—Light, fast "hunter-killers" are about to usurp the spotlight from the glamorous ships of World War II—carriers and battleships.

The hunter-killers will be "pocket cruiser" type destroyers—equipped with the newest sonic detectors and anti-submarine weapons.

They are being reactivated from the moth ball fleet. They're being manned to a great extent with men released from deactivated carriers, battleships and cruisers.

The first four destroyers reactivated on the Pacific coast steam through the Golden Gate yesterday. Among their personnel—some 250 men and 10 to 12 officers to a ship—were many from the recently mothballed battleship Iowa.

Economy Coalition To Oppose Truman's Costly Housing Bill

Southern Democrats Line
Up With GOP Foes

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, June 15 (AP)—A coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, shouting for economy, lined up today against the big housing bill President Truman promised in his campaign.

The long deadlock on the measure was broken yesterday. The house rules committee, which killed similar legislation last year, voted 8 to 4 to clear it for immediate house action. The house decision was set for next week.

Republican leader Martin, of Massachusetts, called a mass meeting of all house GOP members for late this afternoon, to plan a line of action. The house GOP policy committee already has taken a stand against the bill.

"The time is unfortunate," Martin told newsmen, "for any new legislation calling for huge government spending. It might mean new taxes and shove the nation into a depression."

"Only a very few people would be benefited and many would be put in peril, because of the threat to our financial stability. The decline in business in the last few weeks makes it more imperative than ever that we watch our spending."

The bill calls for a vast program of slum clearing, low-rent public housing and farm housing aids. Estimates of the cost run from $9,000,000,000 to $19,000,000,000 over a 40-year period.

Florida Governor's Bride-To-Be Weary

Hollywood Press Agents
Ban Kitchen Photos

Los Angeles, June 15 (AP)—Pretty Barbara Manning is taking a few days' rest from the strenuous publicity whirl as Florida's first lady-to-be.

Hollywood publicists handling the pre-nuptials press relations say the 24-year-old blond is weary after much picture-taking and interviews with newsmen. She wants to be rested for the social activities preceding her marriage June 26 to Governor Fuller Warren.

The governor said yesterday at Tallahassee that Barbara is such a good cook that "in furtherance of frontier frugality which this administration has so faithfully practiced" he is thinking of having her take over the kitchen in the executive mansion.

When Barbara heard this she said, "that's fine. I'll be happy to."

Warren seemed astonished when he learned that one of the Hollywood press agents had banned kitchen photos of Barbara. The press agent explained to newsmen:

"A governor's wife or, for that matter, most women in the south don't work in the kitchen."

Declared Warren: "If I had been silly enough to hire a publicity man who would make such a ridiculous statement, I would fire him forthwith."

"I want to say further for the instruction of this dreamed-up Hollywood press agent that not only do most women in the south work in the kitchen, but many southern husbands toil with kitchen pots and pans."

Legislative Delay Holds Up Summer Program For MSC

East Lansing, June 15 (AP)—Legislative delay in passing the Michigan State college appropriation has jeopardized the college's summer school program, an MSC spokesman said today.

Registrar Robert S. Linton said "everything is in a state of uncertainty" as far as a full summer program is concerned.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 students will start registering Saturday for the first six-week summer session beginning June 21. Whether or not a previously announced second six-week session will be offered depends on the action of the legislature June 23 when the college budget again comes up for approval, Linton said.

The legislature adjourned May 21 without making appropriations for Michigan State college or the University of Michigan.

"Veteran students who had planned to attend both six-week sessions are really up in the air," Linton said.

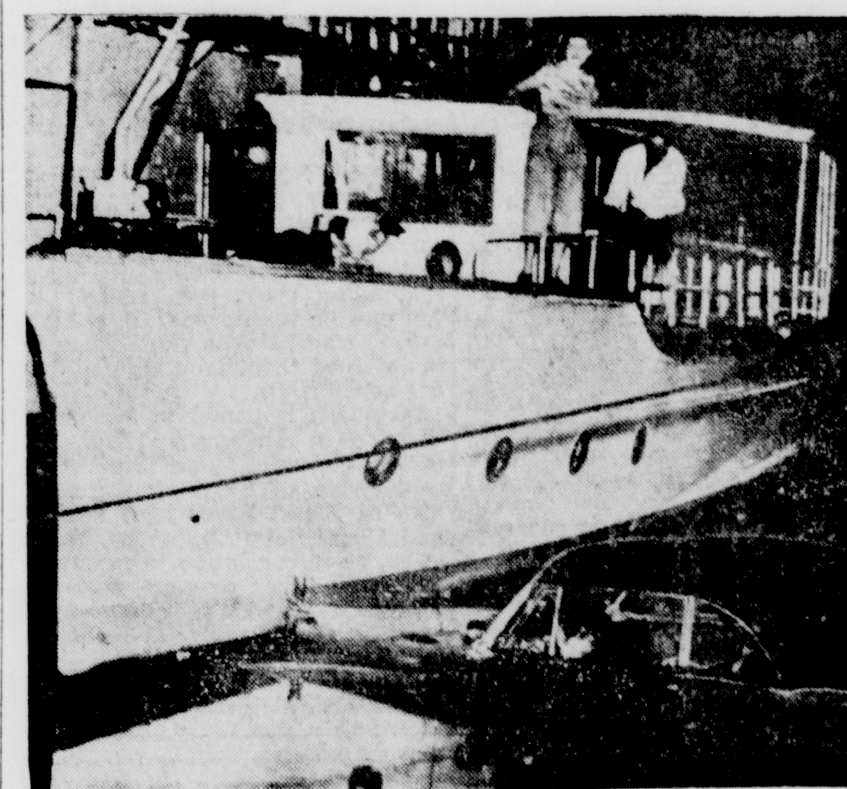

Congress Invited To Cool Of Idaho

Washington, June 15 (AP)—An invitation for Congress to leave Washington's hot weather and set up shop in Idaho came today from Rep. Sanborn (R-Idaho).

Such proposals are made from year to year, but this time Sanborn says there is another good reason: Construction work in the Senate and House chambers this summer is going to force the lawmakers into cramped quarters.

Sanborn proposed either Sun Valley or Idaho's state capital of Boise for a summer lawmaking center.

Heat Fatal To 15 In New England; Crops Drying Up

(By The Associated Press)

A mid-June heat wave and drought threatened crops and fanned fears of serious forest fires in the northeastern states today.

Meanwhile, as the death toll in the New England heat belt mounted to 15 in the last three days, the flash floods and storms in north Texas took the lives of 11 persons.

In the Pacific northwest, there also appeared danger of forest fires because of lack of rain for weeks. Fire hazards are reported in the forests of northwest Washington and northern Idaho as well as in the Cascade mountains and the Coastal forests of Washington and Oregon.

But over much of the middle west, showers and thunderstorms have brought needed moisture to farmers, brightening an already favorable crop outlook. The rains were general yesterday over the north central states, with heavy falls in parts of Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, Iowa and Missouri.

No immediate relief from the hot and humid weather appeared in sight for the New England area

State Orders New Ice-Breaker Ferry

Bids For Big Ship May Be Asked Aug. 15

Lansing, June 15 (AP)—Bids on the construction of a new ice-breaker ferry for the Straits of Mackinac service may be taken by Aug. 15. State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today.

Detailed plans were all but completed this week by the Great Lakes Engineering Co. of Detroit, Ziegler said. Captain Louis A. Baier, head of the University of Michigan engineering department, has been assisting on the plans.

Ziegler reported that his staff has started preparing bidding blanks that will call for bids six weeks after they are sent out.

The boat is expected to be completed within 15 months after the contract is let.

The legislature last month appropriated the first half of the estimated $5,000,000 cost of the boat.

The double-ended vessel will operate all year round. It will be able to carry 150 cars, 50 more than the Petoskey, largest ferry now in service. It will be 360 feet long and 75 feet wide and will be equipped with radar and ship-to-shore telephone.

It has not been decided how the boat will be powered, Ziegler reported.

Airplane Accident Kills 4 Chicagoans Near South Bend

South Bend, Ind., June 15 (AP)—Four persons believed to have been from Chicago died today in an airplane crash 15 miles south of here.

The plane caught fire after the crash. The four bodies were badly burned.

Papers found on one body bore the name of Dr. S. Sinclair Snyder, of 20175 West 95th St., Chicago.

On another body were papers with the name Jean B. Kline, of 1000 E. C. Gorawski, said the victims were apparently two men and two women.

The plane was a four-passenger craft.

Accord Near For German Trade Setup

Paris, June 15 (AP)—A scheduled secret meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers was called off at the last minute today when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky asked for "more time."

American sources said Vishinsky was not prepared for the meeting with western foreign ministers. Vishinsky had been expected to bring in the Kremlin's answer to western proposals for a transport-trade agreement on Germany.

Russia and the west are reported near agreement on these proposals.

Western sources agree that the proposed commercial accord would be restricted to economic essentials necessary to keep trade and transport moving. They say it would not attempt to settle the complex political problems involved in Germany.

These sources claim chances for any political agreement are jeopardized by the complicated labor situation in Berlin where a 24-day rail strike has halted train shipments to and from the city.

The situation was worsened yesterday when Berlin's anti-Communist rail strikers turned down a four-power formula for ending the strike.

Western observers said the proposed east-west commercial accord involves two main factors.

1—Establishment of a four-power commission to supervise an all-German economic board dedicated to promoting east-west trade. This commission would in effect replace the wrecked Allied control council.

2—Russian guarantees of transport rights into Berlin from the west in return for an agreed rate of exchange for east and west marks to facilitate trade.

Jobless Veterans' Payments Resumed

Funds Shifted To Revive
'52-20 Club'

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Payment of GI unemployment compensation to 36,000 Michigan veterans was resumed today.

In a hasty comeback after yesterday's stop order, the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission and the Veterans Administration jointly announced that all was well again.

How much longer the payments could continue, however, was a question.

The resumption of payments in Michigan was secured via a transfer of funds from balances in other states, the Veterans Administration said.

Michigan's 24-hour gap in payments was the result of the lack of appropriations by Congress. The recent rate of payment in Michigan has been $125,000 a day.

There is sufficient money for payment of the $20 weekly through June 30, according to word from Washington, but after that it may be uncertain.

The jobless veterans' payments, formally known as "veterans readjustment compensation," will discontinue entirely July 25 unless Congress extends the GI Bill of Rights.

Since May of last year, the total payments in Michigan have approximately doubled.

The MUCC said that promptly upon receiving confirmation from Washington all its 67 offices in Michigan were notified to resume their payments.

Truckers At Briggs Told To End Strike

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers ordered 115 truck drivers today to call off a walkout at Briggs Manufacturing Co. which has idled some 23,000 auto workers.

The drivers, members of UAW-CIO Local 212, walked out yesterday. They claimed Briggs employs three objects at them from plant windows during a union election.

A Briggs spokesman said the company would be able to resume production quickly if the drivers returned. Briggs laid off 18,500 employees because of the walkout.

GIANT SNAKE HUNTED

Ann Arbor (AP)—Salem township residents were to launch an all-out snake hunt today. Officers said "substantial" citizens had reported that a giant serpent was terrorizing the area. One woman claimed the snake left a "track six inches wide."

President Truman May Renew Request For Tax Increases

Revenues Run 10 Percent

By CHARLES MOLONY

Washington, June 15 (AP)—A budget deficit more than double the $800,000,000 forecast by President Truman now appears in the making for fiscal 1949 when it ends June 30.

Some officials said the seasonal slump in income tax collections from quarterly payments falling due today will have to be impressive to hold the deficit as low as $1,200,000,000 or even $1,500,000,000.

With the government heading that deep into the red this year—after two consecutive years of surplus—there was some speculation over whether the President might take the occasion to renew his January request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase.

The budget outlook has turned worse since Mr. Truman asked the tax increase to (1) overcome a deficit he estimated at $875,000,000 for the new fiscal year beginning July 1 (congressional staff estimators say this will be tripled in actual practice) and (2) to permit a substantial reduction in the $251,600,000,000 federal debt.

For expiring fiscal 1949, expenditures have been holding close to the pace of President Truman's January estimate of $40,180,000,000, which counted on an 18 per cent increase over fiscal 1948.

Revenue receipts, however, have been running almost 10 per cent below last year instead of the 6.2 per cent below that Mr. Truman anticipated in his estimate of a $39,580,000,000 total intake this year.

For that reason, the interim deficits—which means excess of spending over income to date—stood above $2,000,000,000 with less than three weeks left in the fiscal year.

A sharp pickup in collections would be necessary to pare that down to $1,500,000,000 or below by June 30. Even the normally heavy tax payments received in June are largely offset by heavy expenses scheduled the same month.

Among the heavy outlays will be payments of about $1,500,000,000 in interest on the debt, which now costs more than $5,000,000,000 a year.

Costs going above estimates include the farm price support activities of the Commodity Credit Corporation, which used over $1,500,000,000 in the first 11 months of this fiscal year.

Girl Saves Father As Boat Overturns At Morrison Lake

Saranac, Mich., June 15 (AP)—Morrison lake vacationists are still praising two teen-age girls who rescued the father of one of them yesterday when a boat capsized.

The girls are Jo-Ann Bradley, 13, of Lansing, and Pat Ver Brugge, 15, of Grand Rapids.

They were in an outboard motor boat with Jo-Ann's father, Cecil A. Bradley, 50, of Lansing; Gail Sarle, 13, of Freeland; and Judy Koch, 14, of Bay City, when a wave struck the boat and capsized it. All five were thrown into the water.

Jo-Ann went to the aid of her father who could not swim. She towed him to the overturned boat and helped him hang on while Pat swam and pushed the craft several hundred feet to shore.

Gail and Judy, meanwhile, swam to safety and summoned aid. The Saranac fire department used its rescuator to revive the semi-conscious Bradley.

NO INCREASED ROAD SERVICE

Delta's Highway Finance Problem Is Cited

The increasing demands for road improvement cannot be met unless additional sources of income are obtained, William Karas, superintendent-engineer of the Delta county road commission, advised the commission at its recent meeting.

The road commission's budget of approximately $330,000 for the year provides little money to meet anything but operating costs. "The desire (of the people) for more work on a decreased income makes it impossible for the Road Commission to grant these increased services," Karas told the commission.

Karas cited the answer to the problem as contained in a statement by State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, who said:

"Under present conditions, our highway work is not sufficiently financed. I am definitely in favor of more adequate financing to the end that we may have the better state and county roads, and city streets that the state needs and that the people desire."

In his report on finances to the commission, Karas declared the commission can safely operate at the rate of $25,000 per month. Any increase in this rate is dependent upon additional aid from other sources.

Under the present budget of $330,000 the amount allowed per month is about $27,500, fluctuating because of the cost of the work at different seasons of the year. Because of the narrow margin in financing it will be impossible for the road commission to undertake any extensive road improvement work this year—unless additional funds are made available through new sources of income.

In accepting the report of its superintendent-engineer, the Delta road commission in effect served notice that because of financial reasons it will be unable to undertake much if any road improvement work this year.

Cleary, 713 South 11th street, before entering his internship at Receiving hospital in Detroit. His father attended the commencement exercises at Baton Rouge.

POLIO SEASON DANGER CITED

Parents Are Advised On Health Safeguards

While polio has appeared in the Upper Peninsula the year around (30 cases in the U. P. this year) the cases usually begin to increase in mid-June and arrive at a peak in late summer, according to records of the Michigan Department of Health.

At the beginning of the present "polio season," these are things which parents can do, the health department advises:

1. Keep your children clean, well-rested and well-fed. See that they wash their hands and faces thoroughly before eating.
2. Do not allow them to over-exert themselves or to become chilled.
3. Avoid crowds, new contacts and travel.
4. Destroy flies, rats and mice and the things they have touched.
5. Do not let your children eat food that has been left uncovered, or unwashed fruits or vegetable.
6. Give them only pasteurized milk.
7. Be sure that the water they drink, wash in, or swim in, is free from contamination.
8. Consult your physician about postponing nose and throat surgery, and your dentist about postponing tooth extraction until after the polio season.
9. Call your doctor at once if during the polio season your child develops any of the following symptoms: unexplained fever, headache, nausea, a cold, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness. Put the child to bed and isolate him from others when any of these symptoms appear.

Early diagnosis, prompt hospitalization and proper treatment are the doctor's weapons against the disease.

It is difficult to tell when a child has been exposed to polio. Nine out of ten cases are light, unrecognized cases. This type of the disease is contagious. Adults as well as children may have the disease. Some people who appear to be well carry the virus which causes polio. The virus which causes the disease is carried in bowel content and nose and throat discharges. Thus insects, animals, water, or objects coming in contact with these discharges, or food on which insects or animals alight, may be suspected of carrying the disease.

The following encouraging things the Department of Health has to say about polio. Comparatively few people contract the disease in its paralytic form. Many children exposed to the disease have already had light cases and will not catch polio. Many will recover completely without any paralysis. Of those who have some degree of paralysis 75 to 85 per cent will recover completely or show marked improvement under adequate medical treatment.

Three Michigan agencies, the Department of Health, the University of Michigan and Wayne University are doing poliomyelitis research which ranks high in that being done in the world.

Two Public Health Nurses Arrive Here For Field Training

Two public health nurses have arrived in Escanaba to be employed in the Delta-Menominee district health department for field work to complete their training experience, according to Dr. William C. Harrison, district health director.

They are Miss Dorothy M. Fabry of Sault Ste. Marie, a graduate in 1947 of Mercy College in Detroit, who is completing requirements in field training before receiving a Bachelor of Science Degree in public health nursing from University of Minnesota. Her experience includes general staff care of polio, four months, and obstetrics, three months.

And Mrs. Patricia H. Morris who has been employed for nearly two years with the Houghton-Keweenaw-Baraga district health department. Her field training experience in this district is to complete a requirement of the Michigan State Health Department.

May Was Month Of Rain; Remember That Downpour?

May, 1949, will go down in meteorological history—that's the big vault where Henry E. Hathaway, Escanaba weather observer, keeps his records—as the month of the big rain.

Remember May 18 when water was over the curb and up to store fronts on Ludington street, when many intersections looked like the wading pools George Grenholm is getting for Royce and Ludington parks and when many basements were flooded and some even filled with some overflow sewage.

That was the day 2.14 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period, the greatest in some time in Hathaway's annals.

"Precipitation for the month was 4.46 or 1.53 above normal and most of this fell in four days," he reported. "Other big days were May 4 and 5 when we had some hail also and the two other heavy rainfall days were May 17 and 18."

All in all, it was a very pleasant month. The average temperature was 50.3, with a high of 75 on May 5 and a low of 34 on May 28, and the departure from normal was a comfortable plus 7.

Biggest scare of the month occurred during that regular cloudburst on May 18 when Hathaway said a tornadic cloud approached Escanaba from the west but since it stayed aloft and didn't touch the ground, all was well.

"But that cloud had touched the ground—look out!" quoth Mr. Hathaway.

Northern Continues Three Scholarships For Delta Students

A number of students at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, are maintaining the high scholastic average which earned for them an original scholarship to Northern when a high school senior.

These scholarships, granted each year to deserving high school seniors who intend to become teachers and who are within the upper ten per cent of their graduating class, are renewable for one or more years if a high degree of scholastic proficiency is maintained throughout the life of the scholarship.

Northern is proud to announce that Eileen Anderson, sophomore, of Ensign and Ruth Fallstrom, sophomore, of Stonington, graduates of Rapid River high school, and Grace Peterson, junior, Escanaba, have continued to maintain their scholastic average and are therefore granted a continuance of their scholarships for an additional academic year.

Plant Hormone Spray Assures Early Tomatoes

Home gardeners this year can harvest tomatoes much earlier by spraying their plants with a hormone spray according to J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent.

Because of the cool temperatures prevailing in Upper Michigan, the tomato plant does not set fruit until the night temperatures reach 59° F. The first flower clusters usually come out during this early cold spell only to dry up and die without setting fruit. These early blossoms would otherwise give us our first early tomatoes.

To overcome this obstacle caused by nature, research has developed a synthetic plant hormone. When this chemical is applied as directed by the manufacturer the home gardener will harvest ripe tomatoes much earlier than he would had he not sprayed.

Ripe tomatoes were harvested several days earlier last year at the U. P. Experiment Station at Chatham from plants which were sprayed with a plant hormone than from those plants which were not sprayed. The fruits set by hormone are frequently found to be seedless but have the quality, flavor and color of those set naturally.

This hormone sells under various trade names such as "Dow Spray 202", "Seed-Less-Set", "No Seed", "Fix" and others.

Nevada is the sixth state in area in the U. S. but its population is smaller than that of any other state.

REPORT DELTA TYPHOID CASE

Girl, 15, Recovering;
Carrier Suspected

The first case of typhoid fever in Delta county in several years was reported today by Dr. William C. Harrison, director of the Delta-Menominee health district. Last case in this area was reported one year ago near Wilson in north Menominee county.

Victim of the disease in Delta county is a 15-year-old girl who is reported recovering at St. Francis hospital, where treatment included the administration of aureomycin, one of the mold derivatives developed by U. S. Army medical corps research during the war to combat typhus. Its effectiveness has been demonstrated in the Delta county typhoid case, Dr. Harrison said.

Health authorities are conducting an investigation to determine the source of the infection. They suspect that an aged woman with whom the girl had come into contact may be a carrier. The girl on May 1 went to live with and help care for the old couple at their home north of Rapid River on US-41. She became ill June 2 and was taken to the hospital.

Typhoid organisms have been recovered from the woman in an examination, and she is described by health officers as a "probable carrier" of the disease. There are about 200 listed typhoid carriers in Michigan. In the case last year near Wilson the source was also found to be a previously unsuspected carrier.

Once more common than today, typhoid is now seldom encountered because of improved sanitation. Modern, safe water supplies prevent the "explosive" epidemics of typhoid that once afflicted communities of an earlier day.

Townships, Cities Contribute To Aid Health Department

The townships of Delta county are appropriating 12 per cent and the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone 6 per cent of their liquor license revenue to aid in financing the operation of the Delta-Menominee health district for the current year.

The appropriations will total $2,288.23, the amount needed to bring the health department budget to the total requested by the health committee of the Delta board of supervisors. The board in budget meeting last October failed to appropriate the full amount required by the health department for the year.

Dr. William C. Harrison, district health director, advised the township and city supervisors that the townships and cities could, under the law, appropriate from their liquor license revenues for public health purposes. The health department inspects drink establishments as required under the law.

Three townships, Escanaba, Ford River and Maple Ridge, and the city of Escanaba have already made appropriations that have been deposited to the health department account. The amounts to be appropriated by the various units from liquor license income for health purposes is as follows: Escanaba city $752.81, Gladstone $268.15; Townships of Baldwin $71.40; Bark River $110.16; Brampton $61.20; Cornell $17.85; Ensign $56.61, Escanaba $106.08; Ford River $87.72; Garden $141.95; Maple Ridge $130.56; Masonville $141.10; Nahma $38.76; Wells $225.25; village of Garden $38.65.

The cities and villages receive a total of $27,743.48 in liquor license refunds.

Time For Assessing Property Changed By New State Law

Lansing, June 15 (P)—Legislation changing the dates for assessing property in Michigan was signed into law by Governor Williams today.

The changes conform to a state supreme court decision requiring property to be taxed on the equalized instead of the assessed valuation and require the completion of assessment rolls before the beginning of the governmental fiscal year.

The bill will do this: Require property assessment to be completed by the first Monday in March instead of the first Monday in June.

Require the state geologist to certify the value of mineral property and rights by Feb. 15 instead of May 15.

Require local boards of review to meet on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in March, rather than in June, and complete their work before the first Monday in April.

Require that supervisors or assessing officers be notified of changes in property ownership prior to Feb. 15 instead of April 15.

Heavy Vote In School Election

THE election of Charles L. Follo and Mrs. Dorothy Lindquist to four-year terms to the Escanaba board of education in Monday's annual school election provides the board with excellent balance, Mr. Follo, a former teacher in the local schools, is thoroughly familiar with the city educational system and Mrs. Lindquist will provide the mother's viewpoint on educational matters.

As a matter of fact, the electors could hardly have gone wrong, regardless of whom they had elected in Monday's election, assuming, of course, that the choices were made from the slate of five nominees on the ballot. All five candidates were excellent nominees for the school board position.

The comparatively heavy vote in the school election, nearly 1,000 of the 1,305 registered voters, is indicative of the reawakening of public interest in the operation of the city school system. We hope that the next school election will have a few thousand more registered voters and a proportionate increase in the number of ballots cast.

Spy Trial Smear Causes A Furore

THERE is a danger in reading the reports of the Judith Coplon trial to improperly place the blame for the so-called smear of film stars and others. Many people are branding the FBI as irresponsible as a result of the disclosures made in the Coplon case.

It should be borne in mind that the reports of internal security matters from FBI files read in the Coplon trial were not in themselves findings by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. They were merely reports gathered by the FBI in the course of its investigations of internal security matters, a part of the whole, so to speak. Further, the reports were never intended for publication and they were introduced as evidence in the Coplon trial by the defense over the vigorous objection of the justice department.

The purpose of the introduction of these reports was obviously to distract public attention from the case at hand, the espionage trial of a young girl accused of stealing secret government reports for delivery to a foreign agent.

The argument being presented as a result of this development in the Coplon case is that the charge against the girl should have been dropped, rather than to permit a smear of the reputations of well known persons who are not charged with any crime. This reaction is what the defense deliberately sought in its insistence that the secret FBI reports be introduced as evidence in the trial.

It was Miss Coplon, who allegedly stole the secret reports and her attorneys who insisted that they be placed in evidence at her trial, who are the persons responsible for the so-called smear of innocent persons and not the FBI, as the defense would like to have you believe.

Car Finance Deals Being Studied

THE Federal Trade commission has called a meeting of automobile dealers, finance organizations and automobile manufacturers to be held Sept. 15 in Washington for the purpose of eliminating concealed overcharges in the financing of automobiles purchased on the installment plan. The commission called for the conference after complaints from members of congress, Better Business Bureaus, and automobile purchasers.

It is planned to establish trade practice rules that would require that prospective car purchasers be provided with an itemized breakdown of all items being charged in the financing contract, with financing charges and insurance premiums listed separately.

Complaints received by the FTC allege that the "padding" of sales and installment contracts prevail on a nation-wide scale. Many dealers, however, have realized the importance of disclosing all facts of an installment contract to buyers and have followed a program of itemizing all charges contained in a financing contract.

Most dealers will welcome revision of the rules governing installment contracts to eliminate those instances of "padding" that are harmful to the industry as a whole. In most instances the overcharges are not the fault of the dealer but of the financing company. It is the dealer, however, who gets the blame because he handles the transaction for the finance company.

Wallace Still Bats For Communists

WE deem it necessary to take Henry Wallace by the hand again, for he has wandered off once more into those same ideological woods that have so often swallowed him up in the past.

This should really be no surprise. Wallace has reduced to a fine specialty the business of urging great causes while ignoring all the facts.

His newest misadventure concerns the New York trial of 11 Communists on charges of conspiring to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force.

U. S. Judge Harold Medina recently jailed three of the defendants, one for contempt of court and the other two for violent protests against the ruling.

Wallace labeled the action "shocking," a threat to American liberties and a use of the court's power to "promote injustice."

Serious charges of that nature against a highly regarded judge ought to be well-founded if they are going to be made at all. What has occurred, if anything, to warrant Wallace's blistering criticism?

To begin, these 11 defendants have been on trial nearly half a year. In all that time both they and their lawyers have showed a continuous and obviously calculated disrespect for normal, orderly judicial processes. They shout, they rant, they heap abuse, they ignore court rulings and warnings. It is planned legal chaos.

Probably no judge ever endured more in the name of justice. Medina, a paragon of patience, has leaned over backwards to avoid severe measures. He knows the defendants have the double aim of discrediting the courts and provoking him into an error that would lead to a mistrial or a later reversal—in the event of conviction.

Medina nevertheless has repeatedly warned the Communists to cease their deliberate disrupting tactics. Once he told a defendant that one more outburst from him meant a contempt citation.

Still the tirades went on. The showdown came when one defendant refused to answer a question put by a government lawyer. Medina ruled that the defendant, having decided to testify for himself, could not also decide what questions he would or would not answer. He cited the man, John Gates, for contempt and sentenced him to a maximum of 30 days in jail.

It was this decision that brought the vocal storm down on Medina's head and led him to send two more defendants packing off to jail. It was this decision which Wallace said "promotes injustice."

Does it?

No one questions Medina's legal right to do what he did.

We think his moral position also was strong. He had undergone contemptuous assault from the Communists and their lawyers for more than 20 weeks, without striking back. He used the power of his court only after countless warnings that he would not indefinitely endure their tactics.

By his charge, it is apparent Wallace has ignored the shambles the Communists seek to make of their trial. He is saying in effect that an American court cannot protect itself against those who wish to upset its orderly determination of justice.

It seems to us Wallace is at least as far from being right as he was from capturing the presidency on election day last November.

IRON AND STEEL BILL (London Daily Telegraph)

It was a wise decision by the Conservative opposition not to use their voting power to throw out the iron and steel bill but to propose instead to move an amendment postponing the date of transfer to state ownership until after the general election. The government's suggestion that the takeover should take place on the very eve of the elections, is undemocratic. Such a move would be bound to fail in the event of Conservative victory in the elections as the Socialists would not have time to bring the industry into effective state control.

But the game of shuttlecock for the ownership and control of the steel industry is fraught with serious inconvenience and disturbance and it is characteristic of the Socialist irresponsibility that they are prepared to risk it.

IS THE B-36 ENOUGH ALONE? (The Detroit News)

The argument over the B-36 is only a symptom of the real danger. The national defense will not be undermined by the political flinching which may have attended the procurement of one weapon. But it can be absolutely undone by the grave miscalculations of well intentioned men who place a mistaken value on the importance of that weapon in relation to all other factors in the military problem.

MORE ABOUT "ROUTE" AND HOW TO SAY IT

A Los Angeles radio announcer has taken me to task for stating in this column that the word route may be pronounced either "root" or "rout"—that one is as correct as the other.

"You should not be permitted to spread such false teachings. 'Rout' for route is unthinkable! Why not buy a dictionary?"

I seldom buy dictionaries. The publishers keep me supplied free as the new editions come out. Hence, I have shelffuls of dictionaries of all sizes and ages.

Now there may be other readers who share the opinion of our announcer, believing that "root" is the only authorized pronunciation for the word route. Let's look at the dictionaries.

Both "root" and "rout" are sanctioned by the American College Dictionary, Kenyon and Knott's Pronouncing Dictionary, Words: The New Dictionary, Thorndike Century, The New Century, Webster's New Collegiate (1949), and Macmillan's.

Webster's New International states "... in certain special cases 'rout' prevails, as in military use, among railroad men, and, colloquially, of a delivery route."

(Note: "Colloquial" does not mean inferior, provincial, careless, vulgar, or incorrect. Webster's states: "The recent tendency in the best public speaking, both in England and America, is away from the

Textbook Probe Offers Dangers

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Prodded recently for inactivity, the House Un-American Activities committee seems to have decided to start on a new trail. That is as good an explanation as any for the remarkable step just taken by the committee.

A letter has gone out signed by the chairman, Rep. John S. Wood of Georgia, to nearly every college and university in the country and to every public school system. It requests lists of textbooks now being used, along with the authors of the texts.

This first came to light when the heads of several institutions telephoned to Washington to try to find out what was behind the demand. The letters went to large privately-endowed institutions such as Harvard, Wellesley and Vassar, as well as to state tax supported schools.

The smaller institutions and the high school and grade school systems were asked for lists of all the texts used. To the larger institutions the request was somewhat narrowed down, as the letter indicates:

"The committee on un-American activities is desirous of obtaining lists of textbooks and supplementary reading—with names of authors—in use in our educational institutions throughout the country in the fields of American literature, geography, economics, government, philosophy, history, political science and any other of the social science group. Since we have immediate need for this material, the committee will very much appreciate your cooperation in making this material available to us at the earliest possible date."

BORDERS ON HYSTERIA

What led to this request is revealing of the fear and suspicion that today borders on hysteria. It is the climax of what seems to me to be a concerted drive to put curbs on the right of free inquiry.

For some years the un-American committee has been under pressure to investigate American education to determine whether "subversive" doctrines are being taught in the nation's schools. For the most part, the pressure has come from those who tend to regard as "subversive" anything that deviates slightly from the propaganda of the National Association of Manufacturers.

In some instances they are super-heated patriots of advanced years who looked on the whole Roosevelt New Deal as part of a Communist plot. Others are cynical opportunists deliberately whipping up fears about education in order to serve their own political ends, which in some cases are just as subversive as Communism.

Under the Republicans for the two years of the 80th congress, the committee resisted this pressure. Smarter members, such as Rep. Richard M. Nixon of California, realized that such a line of inquiry might stir a hornet's nest of resentment. And, furthermore, they were aware that a large and carefully trained staff would be necessary for such an investigation if it was to be anything more than a sort of junior edition of the Hitler book-burning in the heyday of the Nazis.

WOULD BE BIG JOB

If all the schools respond to the un-American request, the volume of material coming in to the committee is likely to be large. That the present staff could analyze it intelligently is very doubtful. In about 30 states a board approves the textbooks for all public schools, but in the other states the choice is made by counties or local school boards.

What immediately precipitated the committee's letter was a petition from the National Council of the Sons of the American Revolution. The demand for an investigation of the nation's textbooks was approved by the Sons at their last national convention. The Sons, even more nervous in their reaction to anything faintly "subversive" than the Daughters of the American Revolution, have about 20,000 members.

Chairman Wood plays down the letter. He says it is merely a staff request, and the committee will decide what to do about the nation's textbooks when they see what the staff turns up in this preliminary inquiry.

In my opinion, it is an ominous move. Even if the committee decides not to determine what is American and what is un-American in the school books, it will further increase the fear and doubt that have a baleful effect on the morale of the American people.

If I were a member of congress, I would hesitate a long time before I voted for federal aid for education. Even though I believe such assistance necessary, I would be fearful of the long arm of the federal government thrust out to police all teaching.

The strange thing is that those who oppose aid to education are also those who want Uncle Sam become snooper and policeman on the thought-control beat.

formal and toward the cultivated colloquial. . . the style of well-bred ease.")

There is no doubt that "rout," to rhyme with "bout," strongly prevails in Standard American speech. The "root" pronunciation is correct too; but there are times when it becomes a stoplight. Notice the ridiculous mental images that result from such uses as: The railroad routed us through Chicago; the railroad is routing us to Denver via Kansas City; we asked the railroad to root us through St. Louis.

I have heard it argued that the pronunciation "root" for route is desirable because it distinguishes the word route from the word rout. But what do we gain by that when the pronunciation "root" makes us think of the word rout?

And what of the words routed and routing? Routed is the past tense of both rout and route. Routing is the verbal noun form of both rout and route. The spelling "routing" does not suggest the pronunciation "rooting."

Personally, I prefer the pronunciation "rout" for the word route and its derivatives.

WILD LIFE—Boy Scouts of Red Buck district, camping overnight last weekend at Pioneer Trail Park, observed—among other things—a considerable number of wild animals. There were flying squirrels, a skunk, a deer, and diverse other creatures, including sleepy-eyed Scoutmasters who were roused out of their slumbers about 5 a. m. by the enthusiastic young nature lovers.

The Scoutmasters themselves had little time for nature study, most of their time being taken up in watching over their young charges. Speaking of charges, some of the boys carried over a feud from last year and attempted night forays against other camps. These were nipped in the bud by the watchful Scoutmasters, who were intent on teaching good citizenship and sportsmanship. It was on these nocturnal and unscheduled amblings that some of the boys observed a large doe close to one of the tents.

NOT SO WILD—The Scouts had a very good time. The Scoutmasters and Ed Kot, Scout executive, maintained discipline. They did not enjoy themselves as much as the boys.

Sunday evening, a few hours after camp had been broken and Scoutmaster Jim Bailey of Troop 453 and his family were returning home following a picnic supper at Pioneer Trail, the Baileys saw a deer close in toward Escanaba. The doe was near the Superior Products plant along US-2. From there is ran across the highway, skidding on the pavement. Last seen it was high-tailing it past the county convalescent home, bound for the peaceful solitude of the woods.

It may have been the same deer the boys saw in Pioneer Trail Park the night before. If it was, it probably needed peace and quiet.

GOING DOWNTOWN — Louis Kintziger of 1017 Lake Shore Drive, whose "Bay Mild" novel of a couple years ago will be found on many local bookshelves, reports that he recently observed a playful young deer heading along the bay shore for downtown Escanaba. It would run and jump, splash into the water and out again.

This was in the early morning. Not so long after that a deer plunged through the window of Eden's gift shop, still in playful mood. Perhaps it was the same one. Later still the deer was seen jumping a fence at the U. P. State Fair grounds, heading for the Danforth Hills country.

PLENTIFUL NOW—Within recent years the number of deer in Northern Michigan has materially increased. The sight of a deer along a highway is no longer a rarity, but rather is expected.

In some farm areas downstate the deer have become so numerous the state is making an effort to prevent them from damaging crops. One way is to place a powder along the outside row of vegetables, advises the conservation department. When the deer approach the vegetables and take a sniff of the powder it sets them into a sneezing fit, guaranteed to discourage any further venturing for home-grown salad. Farmers tell a different story, however.

AND THEN—That good game conservation measures are partly responsible for the increase in the deer herd population is pretty much taken for granted. If it were not for the control of hunting, deer might now be little more than a memory.

Originally, deer were plentiful in the Upper Peninsula. Pioneers found the deer in large numbers and had little difficulty in obtaining all the venison they needed for their table. The venison was eaten fresh and was also smoked, dried and salted.

Later, as the country became more populated and lumber camps dotted the pine woods, there was a call for meat and more meat to feed the hungry jacks. To provide this fresh meat there was established the position of "camp hunter", a man who spent all his time hunting deer to provide venison for the lumber camp table.

Still later—and adding to the depletion of the deer herds—came the uncontrolled hunting of the animals. There was no open season or closed season, no limit on the number of deer that might be killed. The over-hunting, together with the rapid cutting of the forests, made it seem inevitable that the deer might soon become extinct.

NEARLY TAME —By demand of the sportsmen themselves the state established deer hunting laws that stopped hunting with dogs, with lights, and confined hunting to a November season. The second growth forest grew up, providing more food and shelter than before. The deer were not only saved—their numbers began to increase.

Today deer are so numerous there is seriously debated the question whether does as well as bucks should not be taken to prevent starvation and to protect crops in some areas.

Stop Seine Hauls

Dear Editor: Along with many other sportsmen in Delta county, I have become deeply concerned about the recent reports of out-of-state fishermen who are using seine hauls to catch walleyed pike.

I hope the people who took Gov. Williams fishing last week informed him of the great extent to which this new method of fishing has imperilled walleye pike fishing in the local waters.

If we want speedy legislation on this matter, we must use every opportunity on hand to influence some rapid action on this matter. I write this article in hope that other opportunities are not overlooked henceforth.

Sincerely,
A. Sleuth.

Asps Explanation

Dear Editor: "A Taxpayer" who wrote about Governor Williams' proposed corporation tax in the Public Forum June 11 has brought attention to an issue that should be of interest to everyone in Michigan.

The governor has declared his intention of running for reelection in the next election. It is no secret that this particular tax is his "baby." He will make every effort to make it a law.

"A Taxpayer" is, I presume, a local person. I wish—and I believe that there are others that he would write to the Forum on this issue and in greater detail. Answer such questions as to what the tax would mean to us, the wage earners? How does it effect industry? Why will it drive industry from Michigan, etc?

Williams Blames Legislative Flop On GOP Policies

Traverse City, Mich., (P)—For the second time, Governor Williams has sought publicly to make the Republican policy committee the scapegoat for failures of the recent legislature.

Addressing a convention of county Triple-A committeemen, Williams blamed the policy committee for defeating his plan for a "seal of quality" program for Michigan agriculture.

The policy committee, composed of key lawmakers and elective state officials, sought to steer the G. O. P. legislative majority in the 1949 session.

Williams declared his plan to improve standards of agricultural quality and improve marketing procedures "possessed merits so obvious" that it received bi-partisan support when introduced.

But, he said, "it was strangled in committee by a little group of willful men who had set themselves up as the organizers of legislative policy. Although the 'seal of quality' bill had been eagerly sponsored by Republicans, this so-called Republican policy committee decided that it was to die without consideration on the floor of either house."

Earlier Williams had lashed the policy committee for blocking labor legislation.

Other states, including Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Virginia, have established state marketing programs, while Michigan lags behind in helping its farmers, Williams said.

"With the aid of their state governments, the farmers of such states are shipping quality trademarked food products into our own cities to compete successfully with Michigan-grown food."

The governor also jibed at the Republicans for refusing to balance the budget with his proposed four per cent corporation profits tax.

"Recent events demonstrate," he said, "that corporate industry in Michigan is well able to pay a moderate tax of this kind. Within the last couple of weeks two of the great automobile concerns of our state paid out in bonuses to their executives about $65 million dollars. That sum is just about equivalent to the amount we would collect from a profits tax on all corporations."

ARTHRITIS IN ARM - HIP - SHOULDER REALLY TORTURED ME

I suffered with very painful Rheumatism, and Arthritis for three years. Once it was so severe I was confined to my bed for nearly three months. Now! Thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely better says Mrs. Rosa Peppenhorst, a Detroit suburban resident.

Mrs. Peppenhorst

Right Arm Just Hung Limp

"I feel so good since I have taken O-JIB-WA BITTERS, that I believe that such a short time ago I was so crippled up with the pain and misery of Rheumatism and Arthritis that it was all I could do to move from one place to another. For the last three years, Arthritis has really made my life miserable. It started in my hips, shoulders and in my right arm. At times it got so bad I couldn't get out of bed without help, and then when I did get up, getting down was just as painful and hard. When the pain was really bad, I used a heating pad almost constantly for relief, but got very little of that. The attacks continued to get worse, and just longer. The last one I suffered, forced me to stay in bed nearly three months. My right arm was so bad it just hung limp and felt like pins were sticking in it. The combination of pains, nervousness and weakness kept me awake at night, and I was always tired and weary."

Personally Recommends O-Jib-Wa to All

"Because of the wonderful results I have received from O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am most anxious to tell others what O-JIB-WA has done for me. Although I have taken this remarkable medicine for only 30 days, I have never felt better in my life. I have never felt better in my life. I am entirely free of aches and pains. It is really wonderful to be able to get out of bed by myself. I have regained complete use of my right arm and once again can do my own housework. I cannot say enough for this wonderful medicine. My kidneys do not bother me, I am no longer nervous, I eat better, sleep better, and really feel wonderful, thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

O-Jib-Wa Bitters Can Help You Also

Regardless of what you have tried without results, if you suffer from Rheumatism, Arthritis or Neuritis, you owe it to yourself to try this all herb medicine. Germans Hold Top Hand In Peace Deal

By HAL BOYLE

Berlin, (P)—Here in defeated Germany is the world capital of postwar optimism.

There is uneasiness in Washington, Paris, London and Moscow. There appears to be less uneasiness here.

The biggest single impression a postwar visitor gets now is that the defeated are not so worried today as their conquerors. They see better times.

Boyle

For the current international tug-of-war over the fate of his country has given back the average German something he lost when his nation collapsed in military and political chaos in 1945.

He has regained a feeling of importance, the thing the German likes best. He has the knowledge that here where east and west once met in victory they now meet in mutual fear. And he knows that he is the keystone of the fear.

He is enjoying the odd pleasure of being courted from two directions simultaneously instead of having to fight simultaneously in two directions. And this is a flattering gift of peace indeed to a nation that in a single generation lost two war bids for world dominance because it got itself in the classic military dilemma—having to fight here and aft at the same time.

Three years ago, when I last came here, the victors' prevailing philosophy, left over from wartime unity was:

"Germany is trying to divide the allies—split them into two camps."

Courting The Conquered

Today the underlying feeling appears to be:

"We must win the Germans to our side."

No longer do the conquerors say they can't afford to let themselves be divided by the vanquished. Tacitly accepting that division now, they court the conquered. In defeat Germany is today more united than the nations who whipped her.

For she knows what she wants. She wants to be German again, the springboard of European decision.

In a way, Germany is on the auction block. But who can buy her? The muscular military power of Russia, the old neighbor enemy to the east? Or the strong boy of the western world—America?

Probably neither can do so permanently.

For in the unswept rubble of their lost gamble for world dominion the Germans are in one way stronger than either the Russians or the Americans.

That is because the Russians and Americans are afraid of each other and the Germans are not afraid, so long as this is true, of either.

The Germans feel they alone can buy themselves back eventually. They know it and they love it. And peace swings again, as it has for a hundred years, on the hinge of the Teuton.

Don't Fence Yourself In

Every spring, Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts patch up the stone wall that separates their farms. They walk along talking—Easy on one side, Handy on the other—picking up the fallen stones and putting them back.

Afterwards, over a friendly glass of beer, Easy says, "You know, wall-mending is a nice neighborly custom, but we really don't need that wall. We keep it up just because it happens to be there."

"Yes," says Handy, "a lot of walls and fences and boundaries keep on separating people for no good reason. Maybe we'd all be better off if some of them were torn down, instead of kept standing."

From where I sit, Handy said a meaningful. Take the "walls of intolerance" that people build up against each other. I like a temperate glass of beer now and then, you may prefer buttermilk—but that's no reason for me to criticize you, or you, me. Let's live and let-live together—making more friends and fewer "walls."

STREET PAVING POLICY REVISED

Corner Lot Owners Will Get Better Break

The City of Escanaba revised its policy on street paving this morning when the council decided that the city shall assume half the cost of paving frontage on the long side of corner lots after the first 50 feet.

The action was taken by the council to encourage the paving of streets. Most of the streets affected by the council's action are on east-west avenues.

Up to now owners of corner lots were required to pay assessments for paving the streets fronting their lots, usually 50 feet, and the full length, generally 140 feet, as well. Under the new policy, the corner lot owners will pay for paving the full frontage on the width of their lots, 50 feet on the long side and half of the remaining distance.

The city council also decided that the city shall assess against adjacent property all of the cost of paving streets 30 feet in width, but that additional widths, such as in the case of arterial routes, will be borne by the city. The purpose is to equalize the assessments for street improvements throughout the city.

City Manager Aronson proposed that city streets be standardized at 28 foot widths, but the council adopted 30 foot streets as standard.

Blacktop Approved
The council approved a batch of blacktop paving petitions, most of which had previously been before the council.

The council delayed action on a proposal to pave First avenue north from Stephenson avenue to 19th street but approved new petitions for paving 12th avenue north between Washington avenue and US-2-41 and for paving Seventh avenue south, between 15th and 16th streets.

A petition for sidewalk construction on 8th and 9th avenues south between 18th and 19th streets and on 18th and 19th streets between 8th and 9th avenues south was referred to the planning commission for study. The city policy in the past has been to have the property owners engage private contractors for sidewalk jobs.

Other action taken by the council at its meeting this morning include the following:

Adopted for first reading a resolution to close 18th street between Sixth and Seventh avenues for the extension of Royce Park playground.

New Bus Route
Authorized a 90-day permit to the Delta Transit company to establish a new bus route on 17th street south to Eighth avenue, east to 14th street, south to Lake Shore Drive, northeast on Lake Shore Drive to Sixth street, north to Ludington street. In the 90 day period the council and the planning commission will study the problem at greater length to determine whether arterial routes should be revised.

Accepted a petition for water main extension in the 1200 block of 12th avenue south, the property owners to pay $1.50 per front foot. Referred to the planning commission a proposal to study the need for street improvements on South Ninth street.

Advanced to second reading an ordinance establishing utility rates for the next fiscal year.

Adopted for first reading an ordinance to revise civil service rules retraining review of civil service examination papers to applicants only.

Referred to the city electrical superintendent a complaint of radio interference in the 1500 block of Ludington street from Fritz Gafner.

Voted to purchase government bonds with the $20,372.25 received as the city's share of interest from the estate of the late Mrs. Katherine Bonifas.

Robed And Hooded Band Flogs Veteran At Birmingham, Ala.

Birmingham, Ala., June 15. (P)—A robbed and hooded group flogged a World War II veteran last midnight after dragging him from his home.

Billy Guy Stovall, 31, said he was lashed 20 times by a band of white-sheeted and hooded men. They came to his home in three cars.

The flogging was the third incident involving robbed bands in the Birmingham area within a week. Friday night Mrs. Hugh McDannal was dragged from her house and made to witness a cross burning. The same night a cross was burned at a small restaurant.

All three incidents involved white people.

Stovall declined to discuss the case today. Mrs. Stovall and the two children, Billy, 10, and Elaine, 8, gave this account:

A robbed man came to the door about 11 p. m. and said "This is Stuart. I want to see you."

When Stovall went to the door, he was grabbed and pulled outside. Deputy Sheriff Earl Cooper quoted Stovall as saying the men drove to a wooded area on the outskirts of Birmingham. He was held by two men while another whipped him with a leather belt, striking him just above the hips. He gave no reason for the attack. There was no Klan comment.

There are more than 8,000 scheduled mail trains every day in the United States.

Democrats Discount Talk Of Depression

Republicans Propose Big Public Works Program

By JACK BELL

Washington, June 15. (P)—Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said today people had better quit gabbing about a depression or the country may talk itself into one.

"I might go back to 1933 and repeat the words of Franklin D. Roosevelt to say that 'the only thing we have to fear is fear itself'—they are just as true today as they were then," Lucas told a reporter.

The Senator's comment came in response to an announcement by Senator Brewster (R-Me.) that Republicans soon will sponsor a $50,000,000 public works and relief planning program "to meet the growing Democratic depression."

The measure would not provide money for public works but would look forward to starting them when deemed advisable.

Lucas said he doesn't think the Republicans are doing the country any good by talking about a depression at a time when, the Democratic leader said, the nation seems merely to be going through a "levelling off" process.

Stock Prices Gain In Fits And Starts

New York, June 15. (P)—The stock market advanced in fits and starts today.

Despite the jerky character of the rise, though, a wide variety of leading issues gained fractions to more than a point. Even when buying interest faltered, as it did frequently, gains were fully maintained.

Opening business was comparatively fast as overnight orders were taken care of but later the rate of trading became a little more ragged. There was a tendency for volume to expand when prices advanced.

Today's action was a comparatively vigorous follow-through to a feeble rally that started yesterday after the market on Monday had plunged to a 4½-year low.

Lions To Install Officers Monday At Dinner-Dance

The Escanaba Lions club will install newly elected officers Monday evening, June 20, at a ladies' night dinner-dance at the Escanaba golf club. Dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock.

International Counsellor Art Goulaiss will be the installing officer.

Music for the dinner and dance will be provided by Gordon Sullivan and his orchestra and a floor show will also be presented, with George Carroll as master of ceremonies.

Schools Receive Surplus Payment

School districts of Delta county have received $6,657.59 in surplus primary money disbursed today through the office of the county treasurer. The districts and the amount each will receive is as follows:

Cities — Escanaba $2,731.40; Gladstone $860.89.

Townships — Baldwin $19.10; Bark River $622.52; Brampton $112.29; Cornwell $98.50; Escanaba $222.61; Fairbairns $8.50; Ford River $113.27; Garden $112.29; Gladstone Ridge $325.05; Nahma $227.53; Rapid River $475.75; Wells $468.89.

Grandmother Trying To Save Boy Drowns

Newfoundland, Pa., June 15. (P)—A 56-year-old grandmother drowned Tuesday in a futile attempt to rescue her six-year-old grandson, Coroner Vernon Walsh reported.

The Wayne county coroner identified the victims as Mrs. Ethel Baisley, of Newfoundland, Pa., and Lawrence Hadden, son of Mrs. Erna Hadden, Honesdale, Pa.

Walsh said nobody saw the accident and theorized the young-steeper stepped into a deep pool while wading in the Paupack river and the grandmother drowned attempting to rescue him. Hadden a verdict of accidental drowning.

Hoehn Urges Active Part In Government In Flag Day Speech

"We believe that the ballot box, the right of each citizen to raise his voice in the affairs of government is the bulwark and safeguard of democracy," Clair J. Hoehn, Gladstone attorney, said in a Flag Day address broadcast over WDBC, the Escanaba radio station, yesterday evening.

Because of the rain, the program planned for Ludington park was cancelled, and Hoehn, introduced by Mayor Robert E. LeMire of Escanaba, spoke over the radio. The program was sponsored by the Escanaba Elks club, with John C. Bennett in charge.

"Our flag has been hailed from the time of its creation as the emblem of peace and liberty," Hoehn said. "It is regarded by all as the proof of the fact that liberty and security can exist together. It means that all distinction based on birth or blood have perished from our laws."

"On June 14, we are called upon to rededicate ourselves to the equal chance of freedom, to scorn the weakness that calls upon us to surrender our liberty for some false hope of material gain."

Hoehn urged his listeners to take an active part in the affairs of our community and our government, for "if democracy fail, as fail it may, the fault will not lie in the strength of the community or the strength of the government which succeeds it, but in the decay of indifference with which so many people regard the problems which we face."

"Let us then rededicate ourselves to the preservation and growth of our institutions, to international peace, freedom and security and to the theory that this is one world conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Porcupine Mountain Prison Camp Opens

Marquette Trustees Are Moved To State Park

Lansing, June 15. (P)—Two new prison labor camps were starting operations today.

Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks reported that 35 trustees were moved yesterday and today from Marquette prison to the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

A crew from Southern Michigan prison today was moving equipment into the Pontiac Lake State recreation area.

At the Porcupines, the men will be housed temporarily in conservation department buildings. One of their first tasks will be to build a permanent camp to permit expansion of the camp to 30 men. They will also start on conservation projects including development of a winter sports area.

Brooks also announced that 10 more men had been assigned to the Waterloo State recreation area camp to increase the personnel to 60. When the other two camps and a projected fourth camp at Tahquamenon State park are under way, Brooks said, it is proposed to increase the Waterloo camp to 75.

S. J. Gilman, assistant to the commissioner, has been appointed director of the prison camp program, Brooks announced.

Washington Paper Carries Report Of FBI Chief Quitting

(By The Associated Press)
Use of secret FBI files in Judith Coplon's espionage trial brought a report today—privately discounted—that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had resigned in angry protest.

The Washington Times-Herald, which published the report, said Hoover felt it would have been better to let Miss Coplon go free rather than expose the documents in public.

Its copyrighted story said Hoover reportedly turned in his resignation during a heated showdown yesterday with Attorney General Tom Clark.

There was no official comment on the report but it was discounted privately in high administration circles.

The Coplon case, meanwhile, went into its 52nd day with Defense Attorney Archibald Palmer demanding a long list of notables as witnesses. He wants to start with Dr. and Mrs. Edward U. Condon and ex-Interior Secretary Harold Ickes.

Plumber Captured In Ambush Shooting Of Berrien Farmer

Three Oaks, Mich., June 15. (P)—A Berrien county posse captured a shotgun-wielding plumber without a struggle today a few hours after a prominent farmer was critically wounded in an ambush at his farm.

The fugitive, Francis Mitchell, 45, was nabbed while eating at a farm adjoining that of the victim, John Malsch, 42.

Shot in the abdomen and left arm by shotgun pellets fired from close range, Malsch was given only a "slim" chance to live.

Sheriff Erwin Kubath of Berrien county described Mitchell as the estranged husband of Malsch's housekeeper.

While an armed posse combed nearby woods, Mitchell was arrested by deputies at the farm of Anna Myer, next door to the Malsch farm. They said they went there on a tip that the Three Oaks plumber might be there. Deputies added that Mrs. Myer apparently did not know of the shooting on the adjoining farm.

Townships And Schools Given Final Tax Rate

Final allocation of millage tax rates to townships and rural school districts under the 15-mill tax limitation law were approved at a meeting of the county tax allocation commission last night in the court house at Escanaba.

Only township to receive a tax rate was Bark River allocated one mill to be transferred to the school district for school purposes. This action was necessary because the school district is combined with Harris in Menominee county. The tax rate for the district must be similar for each township in each of the two counties. Harris schools in Menominee county received 6 mills, and Bark River received 6 mills, with an additional one mill to the township to bring the total to 7 mills, the same as for other school districts in Delta. The township will use the one mill to support a school hot-lunch program.

In Wells township the school district received a 6 mill allocation.

Township governmental units were not allocated millage rates because they have enough revenue from other sources to meet their budget needs.

Lynching Case No. 26 Unsolved In Georgia

Last Conviction In Negro Killing Was In 1930

Irvington, Ga., June 15. (P)—Georgia added No. 26 today to an unbroken string of unsolved Negro lynchings.

A special Wilkinson county grand jury probed for six hours yesterday into the lynch-murder of Caleb Hill, jr. Then the jury ruled there was not enough evidence to bring anyone to trial.

The decision brought immediate release to two white men, accused by the Negro's widow as the murderers of her husband.

Sheriff Hatcher arrested Hill after a fight in a Negro cafe. He said the Negro fired at him. After locking up Hill, Hatcher returned to the cafe to look for his gun, lost in the scarp.

He said he left his keys, as usual, on a dining room buffet in his house. The jail was on the second floor. The intruders used these keys, while Hatcher was away, to seize the Negro.

Georgia has failed to bring a conviction against lynchings of a Negro in 26 consecutive cases since 1920. That year, two white men were sentenced to life imprisonment for lynching a Negro, but were paroled after serving seven years.

Agents Arrest Trio In $200,000 Detroit Auto Parts Thefts

Detroit, June 15. (P)—FBI agents arrested three men today in a crackdown on an alleged $200,000 auto parts theft ring.

Harry T. O'Connor, chief of the Detroit FBI office, said huge quantities of parts were stolen from Chrysler Corp's Plymouth division during the past several months. The equipment, sold in Chicago and Milwaukee, virtually flooded markets in those cities, he said.

Arrested were Walter S. Kubicki, 35; James A. Rybarczyk, 38, and Stephen M. Kuber, 31, all of Detroit.

They were charged with interstate transportation of stolen goods. The indictment was issued yesterday by a federal grand jury but the FBI did not disclose the case until after today's arrests.

O'Connor said Chrysler Corp. reported that Chicago dealers were complaining that certain retailers were drastically undercutting factory-set prices.

FBI agents checked 10,000 Plymouth employees in making the arrests. Rybarczyk and Kuber both work for Plymouth.

Phillies First Sacker Shot In Chicago Hotel

ing on here?" Waitkus asked, leaping from the chair.

"For two years you've bothered me. Now you're going to die," Miss Steinhagen replied.

Bellboy Takes Note
Waitkus moved suddenly, then stopped as she threatened him with the weapon. Then she ordered him to move over to the window. She shot him at close range as he moved to comply.

Lying on the floor, Waitkus seemed to be smiling. She added she held his hand and he said, "You like that, don't you?"

She then went back to the closet to reload the rifle and kill herself, she continued, but then she "blacked out."

Police said she telephoned the hotel switchboard operator and then told Edward Purdy, the house detective, that "I just shot a man. There's a long story behind this, but I'm not going to talk about it." Purdy found her on a bench near the elevators. Waitkus was lying on the floor.

Taken to the hospital, Miss Steinhagen did not answer when Waitkus asked her, "why did you do it?"

Warren said the brown-eyed girl, six feet tall, told him she gave a bell boy a note to deliver to Waitkus yesterday.

The note was found in Waitkus' room. It was signed "Ruth Ann Burns, room 297." It read:

"Mr. Waitkus, it is extremely important that I see you as soon as possible. We're not acquainted, but I have something of importance to speak to you about. I think it would be to your advantage to let me explain it to you as I am leaving the hotel the day after tomorrow. I would appreciate it greatly if you would see me as soon as possible. I realize this is out of the ordinary but as I say it is extremely important."

Warren quoted her as telling him she was "a fit case for a psychiatrist."

She told newsmen she shot Waitkus because "the tension has been building up within me and I thought killing someone would relieve it."

She said she didn't remember exactly when she thought of killing Waitkus. She bought the rifle in a pawn shop.

She said she developed an admiration for Waitkus when she first saw him playing in her first baseball game July 7, 1946. Waitkus then was playing with the Cubs, who traded him to the Phillies last winter.

He spent three years in the army—1943, 1944, and 1945. He saw extensive combat service with the amphibious engineers in the Pacific theater. He is not married.

He became a Cub regular in 1946. In his three years with the club, he hit .304, .292, and .296.

Waitkus and his Phillie roommate, outfielder Bill Nicholson, also a Cub until last winter, were extremely popular with the Wrigley field fans. They were idols of the bobby-boxers.

Miss Steinhagen was held without charge in the women's lockup at downtown police headquarters pending further questioning.

NEWPORT, KY., IS WIDE OPEN

Ruark Starts Gambling, But Quits Again

By ROBERT C. RUARK

Cincinnati—You stride the Ohio River and you are in Kentucky and it is as wide open as Reno. It is not long before you see two square black-speckled things called come-to-daddy cubes or galloping dominoes nestling in your hot little hand.

They feel cool and comfortable and friendly, full of promise and talent. The green baize of the table is neat and pretty as a baseball diamond in May and the come-line is precise and symmetrical as a blueprint for prosperity.

The men in the black aprons and prim black ties have friendly inviting faces and their voices are soft and soothing like birds in the early morn as you hear "eight, a point; coming out." No song ever sounded sweeter.

There is a gentle drowsy buzz outside the action room as the happy housewives from Cincinnati concentrate on the nightly bingo game, which is big stuff and big money in the easy environs of Newport, Ky. The buzz is punctuated inside with the cold hard click of the roulette ball as it leaps and dances off the hardwood, flirting with the red and the black and the odd and even.

You suddenly feel sweat in your hands, and the old prickly raises come more behind the ears and under the collar. The ancient business starts anew—watch the dice, are they working with or against the roller? Aha! There's a boy makes six passes before he stumbles on a tough nine and craps himself out.

Can't Resist Temptation
What you are seeing here is a chronic sucker, reformed these last four years wrestling with the devil and getting weaker all the time. The retired president of Horse Players Anonymous and executive secretary of the Hardway Fours Never Made Nobody Rich club grasps the fatal cup in his clammy hands. Will our hero spurn temptation?

You can bet your sweet life he won't. A voice not his own says gimme 50 bucks in fives. It is a flat strained voice, the old voice he dimly remembers hearing at the horse parks when it told the mutuel man to give him six tickets on No. 6 in the sixth. It is a desperate voice.

It says shoot 25. The dice are chilly in the damp hand but the breath warms them and they scatter against the board. Wham! A seven she is, and there is 50 riding now. The hands are just a little wetter and the first plea to the dice is made.

"Be good little dice," the voice

speaks softly and tenderly to its little speckled friends. "Be nice pretty, little dice, and throw papa an easy point!" What! Eleven! Lovely, beautiful mysterious 11, prettier than a formula for an atom bomb, prettier than a woman, prettier than a poem, prettier than a tree.

Shoot the 200

Now you take the 50 back or you leave the 100 ride—and you know what you always do. The 100 rides and the point is suddenly eight. And old old words about lovely little Ada from Decatur crawl into the

Fire Sweeps Home With Parents Away; Six Children Dead

Firthcliffe, N. Y., (AP)—Six children died of burns and suffocation early Sunday when a flash fire swept their home while their parents were visiting nearby friends.

The victims—children of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Zagorski—were Bertha 10; Albert, 6; Patricia, 6; Toni, 4; Jeanette, two and a half, and Catherine, six months.

The father raced home when informed of the fire, and had to be restrained from entering the flaming house.

Two firemen were injured. Origin of the fire was not determined.

The parents left the house late Saturday night to visit Mrs. Zagorski's mother, who lives in this Orange county community, police said. Zagorski, a carpenter, built the house for his family last February.

Former Upholsterer Lives Hermit's Life Near Nadeau

By HERBERT LEBEAU

Nadeau, Mich.—Do you ever wonder how it would be to live alone in some wild region, away from bright lights and theaters, and with no connection with the outside world for weeks except for the occasional drone of a plane or the lonely sound of a train whistle? If you wonder how that feels, ask Mike Worthman. He knows.

People call him "Little Mike." There is nothing decidedly "little" about Mike, although his voice is somewhat weak and high-pitched. To go to this bachelor's residence, you have to travel west from Nadeau until you have passed the last farmer and the little Cedar river.

Long before you reach Mike's land, you see billowy ridges looming ahead. You are approaching the edge of a rather large tract of wild land (probably 40 square miles) which is surrounded by Nathan, Faithorn, Hermansville and Nadeau.

You keep going past the end of the public road. During W. P. A. days, a strip of land was brushed. It marks the place where, some day, a road will pass by Mike's home. But so far, no gravel has been dumped. The stumps remained there and nature is surrounding them with new growth.

The air echoes with the dismal notes of swamp birds. You are startled by the barking of a dog ahead, yet, you'd swear that no one lives there. You advance curiously and after crossing the swamp, you see a small piece of cleared land and a one room house built with walls of solid concrete. A small shed houses a large team of well fed horses.

Dog Is Unfriendly

Mike will treat you with some degree of hospitality, that is, if you are fortunate enough to find him home. His dog is not accustomed to visitors. In case he growls fiercely, don't expect Mike to come to your rescue immediately, because Mike is nearly deaf and doesn't know you are there until he sees you.

When you enter his house you discover that the floor is just bare ground. The inside of the walls are plain concrete like the outside.

A few scrawny cats walk about. A few out-of-date newspapers are lying around. An old style kerosene lamp rests on a crude table. There is no phonograph, radio or musical instrument in the place. Mike spends his winters without electricity, without a telephone or other means of communication with the outside world. No mail carrier, snow plow or individual goes past his dwelling, of course, unless it be a hunter or trapper.

A logging trail leads through the woods from his home to the public road. A couple times a year, Mike may drive to Nadeau with his horses, but ordinarily, he rides to town with neighbors to get provisions.

Mike takes long walks in the woods, usually without firearms. Once he saw a large bear standing on its hind paws a short distance away and reaching as high as it could to pick pin cherries off the bushes.

"Did you go near him?" I asked. "Oh, no. I guess not. I didn't want to do with him."

Lived at Houghton

Mike was not always isolated from civilization. Once he was employed in Houghton as an upholsterer. He was skillful and his income was liberal. In those days he could afford motor boats and other luxuries.

Mike immigrated from Germany when he was a young man. He learned to speak English after he had entered this country. Some say he lost his job during the first World War. Anyway, he does not complain. In his humble way, he explains what he is doing.

"I try to make my living the best I can," he whines. "I'm not young anymore. I can't do every kind of work."

In spite of approaching old age, he keeps cheerful while cutting timber and raising a few potatoes. Thus, Mike manages to eke out a living which he still considers far better than accepting public charity. Although he is neither a great hunter or trapper, one gets the impression that he enjoys his life of solitude.

Perhaps, the following phrase, borrowed from the song "Tumbleweeds" would serve best to describe Mike's sentiments.

"Lonely but free I'll be found."

Yet the cost of your telephone remains low. Today it represents a smaller portion of the family budget than even before the war.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

GRASSHOPPERS INVADE DELTA

Advice On Poison Bait Issued By Heirman

J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent, today advised farmers on the preparation of poison bait to combat the rising tide of grasshoppers, reported in large numbers in several sections of the county.

The Garden Peninsula area, the worst infected, has already received what remained of a supply of government-purchased poison bait held over from previous years, the county agent reported. The government this year will not supply poison for a grasshopper control program as it has done in the past.

Farmers therefore will have to carry out their own control program. There are two types of poison, Chlorodane and Toxaphene, that can be purchased locally, Heirman said.

In most cases the poison comes as a wettable powder or 50 per cent emulsion. Directions issued by the agent in the use of the poison is as follows:

Chlorodane—1 pound of 50 per cent to 100 pounds of bait. The bait to consist of bran and sawdust, mixed 25 pounds of bran to 75 pounds of sawdust and enough water to moisten the mixture, varying from 4 to 7 gallons.

Toxaphene—2 pounds of 50 per cent to 100 pounds of bait, the proportion of bran and sawdust to be the same as above, together with about the same amount of water.

It is also possible to use only sawdust but the results may not be as good as with the bran mixture. The bait should not be mixed too wet or it will become lumpy, Heirman cautioned.

The bait should be spread at the rate of about 25 pounds of poison bait per acre.

Either Chlorodane or Toxaphene can be used in a spray, but in the majority of cases Heirman recommends the use of bait. If a spray is used it should be mixed as follows:

Chlorodane—2 pounds of 50 per cent per acre mixed with enough water to cover area; for Toxaphene—3 pounds of 50 per cent mixed with sufficient water to cover the area. Caution. Cattle should not be allowed to graze a sprayed area for at least three weeks after the application to avoid poisoning.

Besides the Garden Peninsula area, grasshoppers have been reported in considerable number in the Ensign, St. Nicholas areas and the area north of Bark River. The number of grasshoppers in the county was noted as increasing for the past couple years. Lack of rain at the time the eggs were hatching this year resulted in favorable conditions for their survival.

FARM ROUNDUP WILL BE HELD

Annual Chatham Event Scheduled Aug. 5

tieth consecutive anniversary of the event except during the war in 1942.

According to Russell E. Horwood, superintendent of the experiment station, a number of informative tours, exhibitions and talks have been planned. The station staff will be on hand to explain the station's experimental work and discuss Upper Peninsula farming problems with visitors.

The forenoon program will run from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Conducted tours by bus will take farmers to the crops and soils plots. On view will be forage crops and mixtures, fertilizer demonstrations, weed control, grain trials, and vegetable varieties.

As in the past, the Holstein dairy herd and the New Hampshire poultry flock will be on display.

Horwood believes that the women will find much to interest them during the round-up. Farmers and their wives alike will find many hints in the orchard and garden tour and demonstrations of preparing poultry for freezing. Preparation of cooked foods for freezing will be shown in the afternoon.

A brief speaking program has been arranged for the afternoon to be followed by livestock talks, tours, and a demonstration of forest tree planting by machine.

With good weather, Horwood and his staff anticipate a crowd of from 1,000 to 1,500.

Visitors are invited to bring picnic lunches to eat at noon. Free coffee, cream, and milk will be available at the 4-H club stand.

A limited number of meals will be served at Camp Shaw which adjoins the experiment station.

STOP BEING ROBBED OF BIG TIRE MILEAGE!

Why let those invisible steering wobbles rob you of thousands of tire miles? Wobbles caused by out-of-line wheels get into every car sooner or later through road bumps, curb scuffs and worn steering parts. They literally saw the life out of your tires . . . cause blowouts and accidents, too.

Your Bear Service Man quickly detects, corrects those hazards with his Bear Balancing and Aligning Equipment. Tire Savings Alone will pay for the entire cost of this life saving service.

MEET CLOSESManistique Club Host
To 10th District

The 27th annual district convention of the 10th district Lions International closed at Blaney Park Tuesday noon with a luncheon at which Ben J. Grobaski, district governor, presided and Joseph Gucky of Stephenson, a past district governor, was toastmaster.

The Manistique Lions club, with Clint Leonard as president, was host for the annual convention, at which Everett Cookson of Manistique was elected district governor.

Joseph Gucky of Stephenson was chairman of the resolution committee; Ralph Sheehan of Marquette, chairman of the rules committee; Donald McDonald of Marquette was chairman of the nominating committee; Clayton Strolle of Ontonagon was sergeant at arms; Angus Nault of Newberry was chairman of the election committee; Joseph LaCombe of Newberry was in charge of credentials; Gust Asp of Escanaba was chairman of the constitution and by laws committee; and Harry Burris of Sault Ste. Marie was in charge of the necrology committee.

A highlight of the convention was the governors ball and banquet Monday night. Edgar A. Guest, of Detroit, beloved poet, was guest speaker. He emphasized the spiritual values in life, and observed that kind words and deeds travel farther and live longer than material things. Using several of his poems, Mr. Guest expressed his philosophy in vivid language. Enthusiastic applause was accorded him, both during his informal talk and at the close.

Atty. J. Joseph Herbert of Manistique, a regent of the University of Michigan, presented the Lions audience of over 600 to Mr. Guest, describing them as a group of representative American people appreciative of the songs he sings about plain people. Attorney Herbert cited literary passages describing Guest and his poems, and said that in this modern world, materialistic and shadowed by atomic energy, there is a great need for the translation of the present by poets.

At the close of the program, Attorney Herbert observed, "The appreciation of the audience here tonight is proof that the words of a contemporary literary man, that publishing poetry is like dropping a rose petal in the Grand Canyon and waiting for the echo, are fallacious."

Farmers Will Learn About Hay Yields At
Grass Day Programs

Upper Peninsula farmers troubled with low hay yields can learn how to do something about it by attending the grass day programs scheduled this month, states Arthur R. Wolcott, agronomist at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station at Chatham.

Tests have shown that top dressing of fertilizer on legume pastures gives higher yields. A good example is the Laniel Kline farm at Ingalls, Menominee county, where 300 pounds per acre of 0-20-20 fertilizer was top dressed on alfalfa pasture.

Under such treatment, the alfalfa yield was increased 124 per cent. An application of an 0-20-0 fertilizer increased the yield only 16 per cent, thus showing the importance of potash in the top dressing. On lighter soils, 300 to 500 pounds of 0-9-27 fertilizer may be used.

Hay harvested from such fields has a higher feeding value since the protein is increased, due to the larger proportion of legumes to grasses in the mixture. The stimulated alfalfa winters better.

Top dressed legumes will be shown at the grass day at the Norman Weber farm, one-half mile west of Even on June 27 and at the Harold Libby farm, two miles west of Skandia off U. S. 41 on June 30.

Another productive treatment, Wolcott reports, is spring top dressing of old meadows with nitrogen. From 100 to 300 pounds per acre of ammonium sulfate may be used. Similar applications of ammonium nitrate or sodium nitrate may be used. Spring top dressing and early cutting increases the protein content of the hay and increases the yield.

Plant 17,500 Trees
In Schoolcraft Area

Stream improvement crews of the department of conservation have planted 17,500 trees in Schoolcraft county, as of June 1, it was announced today by James A. Scully, regional fisheries supervisor of Marquette.

The crews planted 8,000 willows, 1,000 tag alders, 4,000 red pines, 2,000 jack pines and 2,500 maples along the east branch of the Fox river.

In addition 33 new stream structures have been installed along the East Fox river and 10 new structures along the main Fox river in Schoolcraft county.

The stream structures are made from timbers four inches wide, which create pools for fish, by deflecting currents. The trees are planted for shade and erosion control along streams.

More trees may be planted by the department either this fall or next spring.

New Age Limit Set For State Prep Athletes

St. Clair, Mich., June 15 (AP)—Age limits for Michigan high school athletes have been set.

The Michigan high school athletic representative council acted yesterday to clear up controversy. Michigan thus became the 18th state to adopt such standards.

At the conclusion of its three-day meeting, the council also revised rules on basketball tournaments and track meets.

Here's how high school athletes

Charles B. Moran, Former Baseball Umpire, Succumbs

Horse Cave, Ky., June 15 (AP)—Death has called the last strike for Charles B. Moran, 70, former National League baseball umpire.

Moran, who gained national fame both as a baseball umpire and as a football coach at Centre college at Danville, Ky., died of a heart ailment at his home here yesterday. He had been in ill health for some time and was bedfast the past three weeks.

As coach of the "Praying Colonels" at Centre, Moran, tutored such football stars as Bo McMillin, Red Roberts and Red Weaver. His 1921 team defeated Harvard, 6-0.

He retired in 1939 as a National League umpire after spending 23 years in that job and had devoted most of his time in recent years to operation of his farm near here.

He took great pride in the umpiring profession and was noted for his famous expression: "It ain't nothing until I call it."

Moran pitched for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1903 and later, when his arm went dead, he served as catcher for the team.

His career as football coach at Centre was started more or less by accident. He was serving as assistant coach at Carlisle, where he helped develop the great Jim Thorpe, when he visited Danville to see his son play for Centre. While there he helped prepare the Centre team for an important game and made such a hit that college authorities persuaded him to stay.

He moved from Centre to Bucknell in 1924 and seven years later he quit football to devote his full time to baseball.

Hey, Chicago Cubs! Look Wha' Happened To Louisville In AA

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisville, after switching managers a week ago, has vaulted from the cellar to fifth place in the American association on a five game winning streak.

The Colonels compiled eight wins in their last nine games, and their fifth in a row, by hammering 6-0 and 3-2 wins over Toledo last night.

Skinny Brown twirled a five-hitter in the seven-inning blanking job while Jack Griffore notched victory No. 4 against five losses in the nightcap.

Jake Jones belted a 332-foot homer in the ninth inning to provide the Colonels' clincher in the second contest.

Kansas City, in seventh place, racked its fifth consecutive victory with a 7-3 count over Minneapolis. With St. Paul's double-header at Milwaukee rained out, Indianapolis returned to the lead with a one game margin over the Saints by defeating Columbus 9-6.

First Fish On Rod In Ten Long Years Is 11 Pound Dory!

Karl Schramm, Manitowoc, Wis., is going to keep his ten-year-old casting rod after all — he finally landed a fish with it in the drizzle of Tuesday morning. The fish was an eleven pound walleye.

Schramm and Ervin Pribek, also of Manitowoc were fishing in the bay almost directly out from the Brotherton cottages near Ford River when the big fellow took his bait, a "go-deeper" lure. Schramm said that he thought he was pulling in an old wash tub until he saw the fish. It was the first time that he had connected successfully with that particular rod.

The fish was 31 inches in length and 15 3/8 inches in girth when measured up on Tuesday afternoon and is the new leader in the walleye class in the Daily Press fishing contest.

YORK WITH ATCO

Griffin, Ga., June 15 (AP)—Former Detroit Tiger first baseman Rudy York says he is undecided whether to take over the reins of the cellar-dwelling Griffin Tigers of the Class D Georgia-Alabama league. York stepped out of the majors after the 1948 season with the Philadelphia Athletics. This season he has been paying with Atco in the Norwest Georgia Textile league.

are affected by the age limits:

If a student becomes 19 between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1, he may compete in sports up to the following Jan. 1.

If he becomes 19 between Nov. 1 and Mar. 1, he may compete until April 1.

If he becomes 19 after March 1, he may compete until the end of the current school year.

These regulations are effective in 1950.

Penalties for track men competing in too many events at one meet were increased.

Previously, any track man who entered events above the established limit lost only the points scored in the additional contest. But now in such cases athletes will lose all the points they tally in the entire meet.

Charles E. Forsythe of Lansing, state high school athletic director, presided at the meeting of the 15-man council.

Among those attending were: Leo P. McDonald, superintendent of schools, Gwinnett; and R. Ernest Dear, principal of Ironwood high school.

Tonight Is Deadline For Baseball Trades

New York, June 15 (AP)—Better baseball may be expected in the major leagues, as of tomorrow.

At midnight, the deadline for trades will arrive. Then the pressure will be off many a player who has been going through a severe case of the jitters.

Following Monday's straight catcher deal that sent Walker Cooper to Cincinnati for Ray Mueller, the New York Giants yesterday disposed of another backstop, Mickey Livingston, to the Boston Braves for the $10,000 waiver price.

College Girl Golf Titlist Progresses

Columbus, O., June 15 (AP)—Ohioan Carol Clark, faced the tough task of stopping champion Grace Lenczyk in the Women's Intercollegiate Golf Tournament today.

Miss Lenczyk coasted through the first round yesterday with a 6 and 5 victory over Clara Jane Mosack of Detroit, Rollins college.

Miss Clark won an easy verdict over Nancy Maples of North Carolina, 6 and 4.

SPORTS MIRROR

Today a year ago—Hal Newhouse pitcher a two-hitter for his seventh straight victory as Detroit Tigers beat Philadelphia Athletics, 4-1.

Three years ago—Lloyd Mangrum, Vic Ghezzi and Byron Nelson tied at 284 in U. S. Open Golf championship.

Ten years ago—Lefty Gomez blanked Cleveland Indians, 1-0, giving New York Yankees 10½ game lead in American league.

NO TIGER DEAL

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—"Something" might happen before the Major Leagues' midnight trade deadline tonight but Billy Evans of Detroit doesn't expect a Tiger deal.

Detroit, June 15 (AP)—Marcel Cerdan, the carefree fighting man from French Morocco, risks his world middleweight title for the first time tonight at Briggs Stadium against squat Jake LaMotta, an 8 to 5 underdog from New York's teeming Bronx.

Cash from Jake's home province where he has an interest in two small fight clubs, beat down the price on Cerdan who opened a 5 to 12 choice. It may go even lower by ring time for the 15-round bout, scheduled at approximately 10:00 p. m. (EST). The fight will not be broadcast or televised.

The weatherman predicted that there was little chance of rain spoiling the show. If it is rained out, the card will be rescheduled for Thursday.

From this corner it looks like Cerdan, largely on the basis of the old cuts around LaMotta's eyes that keep re-opening in every fight, Marcel doesn't hit hard enough to dump Jake on his pants but his slashing hooks are just the thing to slice tender brows.

His Big Chance

LaMotta never has been knocked off his feet in 88 fights. Beaten, yes, 13 times, including a "knock-out" by Billy Fox, Nov. 14, 1947, but never on the deck. Even in the Fox affair, stopped by the referee to save Jake from further punishment, he sagged but refused to go down.

"I've waited all my life for this," said LaMotta. "When they passed me up so many times, I sort of gave up hope. But now, I'm getting my big chance. Win or lose, I'll ask no more. I fought for my title. You'll see me fight like I never fought before."

LaMotta has one style—a swarming, bullish attack. When tired, he pauses and sticks out his head, inviting punches to his solid jaw. Only a body puncher can whip Jake. Verdan is a canny master, capable of fighting several different styles. He will throw the book at one-style LaMotta.

Cerdan lost only three of 99 fights. The only legitimate Cerdan loss was to Cyrille Delannoi at Brussels, May 23, 1948. The other two were on fouls.

Fight Catches On

Lost in the shuffle of red hot baseball interest while the Detroit Tigers stizzled over the weekend, the fight began to catch on yesterday. LaMotta, beaten only once in 15 Detroit appearances, is almost a home town boy. He will be the sentimental choice of the crowd.

A house of 20,000 and a gate of about $225,000 is the best guess although Nick Londe, local "promoter" of the International Boxing Club's first title venture, still talks about $300,000.

Heavy showers last night provided some relief from the stifling heat. The weatherman predicted, however, that there was little chance of rain spoiling the show. If it is rained out, the card will be rescheduled for Thursday. The park has been up for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, just in case.

LaMotta has surprising backing from many who criticized his inept performances of the past. The fact remains that granite-jawed Jake never has been knocked off his feet in 88 fights.

Wake Forest Is Irish Foe in NCAA Playoff

East Lansing, June 15 (AP)—Notre Dame and Wake Forest of North Carolina will meet at South Bend, Ind., this weekend in the Class B regional playoffs of the NCAA baseball tournament.

John H. Kobs, tournament director, announced the three game series will be played June 17 and 18.

How A Champion Does It

U. S. OPEN TITLIST—Now you know how a champion does it! These pictures show the popular overlapping grip used by most championship golfers and the free and easy full follow-through that is essential to top-notch golf. The fellow showing you how above is none other than Dr. Cary Middlecoff, once the hottest rookie in professional golf, a fugitive from a dentist's chair, and now an established professional golfing star. He won the U. S. open title at Chicago's tough Medinah course last Saturday.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Cuff notes: F. J. "Mickey" McCormick, Menominee high school coach, is a clerk at the Menominee tourist information lodge during the summer. . . The lodge is open from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, including Sunday. . . Walt Schrader, Kingsford high school coach, has succeeded Don Smith as Iron Mountain Chamber of Commerce secretary, effective August 1, but Don is going to stay in Iron Mountain long enough to manage the Upper Peninsula Golf association tournament at Pine Grove Golf club the second weekend in August. . . John Benham persuaded him to do so.

That means the U. P. golf meet will be efficiently managed. . . Smith is a stickler for detail and accuracy. . . Incidentally, he told us at the recent U. P. Air Transportation committee meeting at the House of Ludington that the reason he is leaving Iron Mountain for the Carolinas is that he still hasn't become acclimated to these Upper Michigan winters. . . They're too long, he says. . . But Smith did a bangup job promoting Iron Mountain's big ski jumping tournament to make those long winters seem a little shorter.

The Escanaba Golf club will play its first inter-club match of the season at Iron Mountain's Pine Grove this Sunday. . . The grapevine reports that Norway defeated Highland last Sunday in the latter's first inter-club affair. . . Ron Hirn, U. P. high school champion, says the Norway fairways were cooked and all you had to do to get a 200-plus drive was dribble one off the tee.

Note at end of a women's twilight golf league report: "Please count your putts". . . Girls, girls, do you mean to say you've been playing all this time without counting your putts!

That man Elmer "The Great" Anderson is at it again. . . The sensational Gastra pitcher fanned 24 men last Sunday, one more than he fanned the previous Sunday, to run his strikeout total for the season to date to 115 in six games. . . Yes, Gastra won the Twin State league game, 10-4 over Alpha. . . Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson is dominating the National league hitting department almost as much as Stan Musial did last season. . . Almost, we said.

Musial topped everything but the home runs department and he was only one behind Ralph Kiner and John Mize there, 39 to 40 for them. . . At last report, Robinson has the best average, most runs batted in, hits, triples and was tied with Pee Wee Reese likewise Brooklyn, in runs and stolen bases.

This item almost belongs in the anti-climax department, but for your information Tom St. Germain's contract has been renewed as coach of St. Joseph's parochial school athletic teams. . . Tom made such a successful debut in his first year of coaching that his contract renewal was well nigh a foregone conclusion.

15 Teams Entered In City's Junior Softball, Baseball

Fifteen teams already are entered in the city recreation department's junior baseball and softball program, Jerome Deloria, in charge, reports.

In a practice game this week, Breitenbach's beat Cliff's Cash Market, 15-7. On tap at 10 tomorrow morning at Royce is a game between Cliff's and Kwanis Braves. Playing for the Braves will be Terry Nyquist, Tom Ferguson, Ronald Menard, Robert Rosemurgy, Tom Eleereet, John Nelson, David Andrews, John Cameron, Tim Runkel, David Constantineau, Gary and Wayne Firman.

The remaining schedule this week follows: Webster, Thursday 1 p. m.—Sandy's Market vs. Nu-Way, 3 p. m.—Meier's vs. Conve's; Friday, 10 a. m.—Kiwanis Braves vs. Breitenbach's 1 p. m.—Wells Township vs. Escanaba township, and at Royce—Baldwin's Green House vs. Hire's.

Boys from five to 10, inclusive, will attend a baseball school at Royce park at 10 Friday morning.

Trucks Away To His Best Start As He Hurls Ninth Win, A 1-Hitter Over A's

Philadelphia, June 15 (AP)—Virgil (Fire) Trucks, who holds the dubious distinction of losing a no hit, is making the Detroit Tigers' pennant gesture more than an idle threat.

The fire bailing righthander picked up his ninth victory of the season here last night as he set the Philadelphia Athletics down with one hit. The Tigers won the ball game 4 to 0.

Only Henry (Hank) Majestic could get enough of his bat on a Trucks' pitch to cash in a base hit. Hammering Henry did that in the fifth inning as he lashed a single to left and spoiled the no hit, no run bid of the husky Irish-Indian. Elmer Valo walked to become the only other Philadelphia baserunner.

"Oh Well, I Won"

Trucks only comment on missing the pitchers "dream boat" was:

"At least I won the ball game."

The big pitcher then referred to the game on May 31, 1941, when he pitched and lost a no hit game to Montreal (9 two-thirds innings) while working for Buffalo in the International league.

The 30-year-old right handed veteran of eight American league seasons is off to the best start of his career. And Manager Red Rolfe doesn't have to pick spots for his ace. He's tough against all comers. While winning nine and losing three the hurler who was nicknamed "Fire" because of his great speed has locked every team in the league at least once. He's hung it on the A's twice.

What's the answer to the Trucks' success story?

Here's what Rolfe has to say:

Mixes 'Em Up

"Trucks is in the best shape of his career. He has kept his weight down by working hard from the start of spring training.

"And Coach Teddy Lyons has helped the big fellow develop a change of pace. With his natural speed and a nice slider along with the change up, Trucks now is able to mix up his pitches."

The A's were ready to attest to that "mixup" theory. Not only did Trucks fan six to increase his league leading strikeout total to 75, but he worked the ball-strike count to 3-2 against only four batters. He faced only 29 men.

This was the fourth night victory for Trucks in as many outings under the arc lights.

Paul Campbell wielded the heavy bat for Detroit, tripling with one on in the first. Vic Wertz batted in Campbell. The inning ended with the Tigers ahead 3-0 after Aaron Robinson sent Hoot Evers home on a double.

After that shaky start, Carl Scheib was able to hold the Bengals until the eighth. It was then Campbell lashed out a double. The record repeated itself with Wertz coming up to send the Tiger first baseman home on a single.

This gave Wertz a runs-batted-in total of 50.

The Tigers played the A's again tonight. Either Ted Gray or Art Houtteman will go to the mound.
